Greetings from the Chancellor

To Our Graduates:

This Commencement Ceremony marks the culmination of your transformative journey here at UNC Charlotte. You are not the same person you were when you attended your first class or stepped through the doors of the Popp Martin Student Union for the first time.

During your journey here, your physical appearance may have changed. Lively classroom discussions and topics of study may have influenced your views on social, cultural, and political issues. You have had opportunities to interact with individuals from other cultures and to engage in the greater Charlotte community. You also have witnessed important developments in the identity of this institution that will strengthen its future and add to the value of your degree. Your alma mater will continue to evolve, but we hope you always will recall fondly your time on campus.

Continuing its trend of growth, UNC Charlotte set a record this year for fall enrollment with 29,317 students. The freshmen and transfer students who joined us continued to strengthen the already stellar academic credentials and diversity of our student body.

As we close out the calendar year, I am pleased to report that it was historic in many ways:

• September marked one year since a difficult and challenging time in the history of the University and the greater Charlotte community. The police-involved shooting of an African-American citizen, which occurred about a mile from UNC Charlotte’s main campus, spurred civil unrest in the city, followed by peaceful demonstrations on campus. We’ve grappled with the same difficult issues and tensions that have simultaneously enveloped the nation. UNC Charlotte will continue to be a thought-leader as greater Charlotte moves forward as a community. We’re proud to serve the community we call home and remain steadfast in our commitment to address challenging issues facing the region.

• Although we began as the Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1946, humbly serving veterans returning from World War II, we are beginning to see substantial progress in the expansion of our role over the past couple of decades as North Carolina’s urban research institution. With the approval of doctoral programs in the mid-1990s, the ability of our faculty to attract externally funded grants and contracts has expanded significantly. Typically, these dollars originate in the large federal agencies, including the National Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health. In the last fiscal year, which ended June 30, UNC Charlotte was awarded 443 grants totaling $50.9 million, a new campus record.

• 49er Athletics has had a big year as we’ve watched history being made in two sports. Former football standout Larry Ogunjobi became the first 49er football player in the NFL after being drafted by the Cleveland Browns in April. And we launched our women’s golf program with an inaugural team excited for a one-of-a-kind opportunity.

• Finally, as the University continues its upward trajectory, our commitment to remain connected to all of Charlotte is moving to the next level as light rail construction nears completion. When it opens in Spring 2018, the 9.3-mile Blue Line Extension will link UNC Charlotte’s main campus, students, and faculty with UNC Charlotte Center City and will connect the city’s financial, high tech, and cultural centers with the thriving University.

Clearly, there is much to be proud of at UNC Charlotte and we are happy to share this important day with you. I speak for all UNC Charlotte administrators, faculty, and staff when I offer congratulations to each of our new graduates – and to your steadfast family members and friends who have looked forward to this day for a very long time. Graduates, let today commence a new relationship with UNC Charlotte in which you embrace your identity as a member of our alumni network. Wherever you go, you will always be a 49er!

Cordially,

Philip L. Dubois
Chancellor
To Our Guests

To help ensure that the ceremony is conducted in a dignified manner, family members and others attending are asked to remain in their seats during the ceremony. Aisles must be kept clear, and videography and still photography are not allowed at the railings or on the arena floor. Only graduates, faculty, authorized staff, and news media will be allowed on the floor before and during the ceremony.

A DVD will be produced by GradImages showing segments of the commencement ceremony and every graduate being congratulated. GradImages will also produce still photographs of each graduate. GradImages will contact all graduates concerning purchase of the DVD and photographs. Graduates may check their UNC Charlotte email account the Tuesday following Commencement to see digital photographic proofs. Further information is available online at www.gradimages.com.

Procession

The University Marshal will lead the procession, followed by the degree candidates, faculty, department chairs, platform party, and chancellor.

The Mace

The mace, carried by the University Marshal, is an ancient symbol of authority dating to 14th-century Europe. The UNC Charlotte mace includes symbols relating to the institution’s history and its setting in North Carolina and Mecklenburg County. The base is formed of a gold pine cone, with the lower portion of the staff carved of native walnut. The upper portion of the staff is formed in silver. Crowning the mace is a hornet's nest in gold plate which sits on a large dogwood bloom. The mace was crafted by Barry Merritt of the Penland School of Crafts.

Academic Regalia

The gowns, hoods, and tassels worn in an academic ceremony designate the level of the degree, the academic discipline in which the degree was awarded, and the institution from which the degree was received. Medallions may indicate that the wearers have earned recognition for academic honors or that they are members of one or more student organizations.

Styles of gowns may vary, but the doctoral gown is generally marked by velvet panels down the front, around the neck, and across the sleeves.

Tassels may be black for any degree or in the color of the discipline in which the degree was awarded. Doctors and governing officials of institutions may wear tassels of gold metallic thread.

The hood identifies the level of the degree, the discipline in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it. The master’s hood is three and one-half feet long, and the doctor’s hood is four feet long. The velvet trim on the hood is three inches wide for the master’s and five inches for the doctor’s. The design of the hood and color of its lining designate the discipline in which the degree was awarded.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is committed to providing equal educational and employment opportunities for all members of the University community and for all those seeking to join the University community.

In case of an emergency, find the nearest campus police officer or commencement volunteer.
Joe L. Price ’83, has served as chair of the UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees since July 2016. He has been a member of the Board since 2007 and previously served as vice chair and chair of two board committees. Price also serves on the Board of Advisors of the Belk College of Business.

As an alumnus whose involvement with the University runs deep, Price is especially proud of the culture of innovation he sees at UNC Charlotte.

“Look around campus and you’ll see innovation at every turn. A software and information systems professor, a biology professor, and students from more than eight disciplines have collaborated in the College of Computing and Informatics’ Makerspace lab to create a functional, 3-D printed prosthetic hand for children with limb differences. Fifty high school freshmen arrived on campus this fall as the inaugural class of the Charlotte Teacher Early College, a five-year, immersive teacher education program giving its students a singular opportunity to prepare for careers in teaching.”

“We’re creating innovative opportunities that respond to current and future needs in our community and within our regional economy. We have a new undergraduate program in Health Systems Management, a new graduate program in Cyber Security, and a new data analytics boot camp for working professionals. New high-tech simulation labs are refining our nursing students’ patient care expertise. Our Botanical Gardens staff is developing a Native and Underused Fruits Garden to educate our community about the diversity, revival, and use of native, fruit-bearing plants and trees in the region.”

“Innovation is evident in our physical growth, too. Light rail will soon glide onto campus 107 times every weekday. A new science building currently in design will house state of the art teaching and research facilities and spaces dedicated to collaborative experiences. And site work has begun on our highly anticipated and highly innovative University Recreation Center, which will be a tremendous resource for the campus community.”

Most important, Price says, is the effect that the University’s culture of innovation has on today’s graduates.

“All the innovation happening on campus is proof of the ever-rising value of a UNC Charlotte degree. I hope that our graduates are proud of the opportunities that they’ve experienced on this campus and that as they go forward they will continue to support and drive innovation throughout the Charlotte region.”

Price is a finance executive who held many positions with Bank of America for nearly twenty years, including chief financial officer, global corporate and investment banking risk management executive, president of Consumer and Small Business Banking, and a member of the bank’s executive management team. Prior to joining Bank of America in 1993, he was affiliated with Price Waterhouse and served as a member of the Financial Institutions National Industry Group, specializing in banking and acquisitions and derivatives.

Price currently serves as a senior advisor for Falfurrias Capital, a private equity firm, and is a board member of RegEd, a compliance software systems provider to the financial services industry.

He also serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of Habitat for Humanity’s worldwide operations and is active with Habitat for Humanity of Charlotte as well as the UNC Charlotte student chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

Price and his wife, Christine, reside in Charlotte and have two grown daughters and a son.

The UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees also includes Michael L. Wilson, Vice Chair; Dhiaa Jamil, Secretary; Dennis N. Bunker III; Sharon Allred Decker; Susan D. DeVore; Theresa J. Drew; J. Brett Keeter; Fred W. Klein, Jr.; Mary Ann Rouse; Laura A. Schulte; Teross W. Young, Jr. and Tracey B. Allsbrook, Student Body President.
UNC Charlotte Bell

The UNC Charlotte Bell, which for many years hung in the belfry of the old Elizabeth School at East Fifth Street and Travis Avenue in Charlotte, was given to Charlotte College in 1960 to be rung on ceremonial occasions.

It has been rung on special occasions such as March 2, 1965 when Charlotte College became the fourth branch of the University of North Carolina and on August 11, 2010 to celebrate clearing the final hurdle to field UNC Charlotte's football team.

Student Bell Ringers

The ringing of the UNC Charlotte Bell at Commencement is an honorable tradition that recognizes an outstanding student leader who has demonstrated exemplary 49er spirit.

The student leaders chosen to ring the bell for the Fall 2017 Commencement Ceremonies are Natural D. Gidney (morning) and Erica B. Thompson (afternoon).

Student Commencement Speakers

Greetings from the Fall 2017 graduating class will be given by Mabel T. Soe (morning), and Tram Q. Pokorney (afternoon). They were chosen as Student Commencement Speakers through a competitive process. All graduating seniors are invited to submit applications and speeches for this honor. The Commencement Speaker Selection Committee consists of faculty, staff, and student representatives. All speaker candidates must present their speeches to the selection committee. To be selected, a candidate must be a graduating student of high academic achievement and demonstrate excellent character through leadership, service, and school spirit. The selected candidates represent their peers in an articulate and meaningful way by reflecting on their experiences and education at UNC Charlotte.

History of the University

UNC Charlotte was one of a generation of institutions founded in metropolitan areas following World War II. Created as the Charlotte Center, the institution opened on September 23, 1946. It offered evening classes to an initial class of 278 freshmen and sophomores in the facilities of Charlotte’s Central High School. In 1949, the city’s pioneering business and civic leaders, aware of the region’s unmet need for a public institution of higher education, moved to have the Charlotte Center taken over by the city school district and operated as Charlotte College, offering the first two years of college courses.

By 1961, the firmly established Charlotte College was experiencing rapid growth that resulted in the establishment of a campus of its own. In the same year, Charlotte College leaders moved its burgeoning student population into the first two buildings on what would become a 1,000-acre campus ten miles from downtown Charlotte. In 1963, the North Carolina legislature approved bills making Charlotte College a four-year, state-supported institution. In 1965, the legislature passed bills designating the College The University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the fourth campus of the consolidated state system. Expansion continued as the University began offering master’s degrees in 1969. In 1992, UNC Charlotte received authorization for its first doctoral programs. Today, UNC Charlotte is the state’s urban research institution and the system’s third largest public university with more than 29,000 students enrolled in 77 bachelor’s, 64 master’s and 23 doctoral degree programs.
The honor of being a student marshal goes to juniors who have the highest cumulative grade point average among full time students during the previous two semesters. Only students who have completed two semesters or 24 credit hours at UNC Charlotte prior to the current semester are considered for this honor.

The University wishes to thank the UNC Charlotte faculty, staff, students, Student Alumni Ambassadors, and volunteers for their assistance with the Commencement activities.

BONNIE E. CONE, OUR FOUNDER
(1907-2003)

Bonnie E. Cone, the founder of UNC Charlotte, served the institution from its earliest days in 1946. Beginning as a teacher that year, she become director of the Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1947. She persuaded the legislature to keep the institution alive in 1949 when it was scheduled to close, resulting in the establishment of Charlotte College, which she served as president. The college became a four-year, state-supported institution in 1963. Cone was given her greatest acclaim for leading the successful campaign to convert Charlotte College into The University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1965. She then served as vice chancellor for student affairs until her official retirement. Cone died March 8, 2003. In spring 2004, she was interred in Van Landingham Glen on the campus she loved and to which she dedicated her life.
EXPLANATION OF HONORS

University Honors Program: The University Honors Program (UHP) is an interdisciplinary honors curriculum that complements any major. Students in the program strive to broaden their perspectives while developing as scholar-citizens. The program consists of a core academic curriculum, honors elective courses, a senior capstone project, and community engagement. To graduate with University Honors, a student must: complete all program requirements; maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and a 3.2 grade point average in honors courses; and receive a senior project grade of "A." [uhp.uncc.edu

Department/College Honors: To qualify for graduation with honors recognition in a department or college honors program, a student must: meet the grade point averages required (cumulative, in the department/college, and in honors courses); complete an honors capstone thesis or project and receive an "A" for that course; complete any additional requirements specified by the program; and be recommended by the program’s honors committee for graduation with honors. [honorscollege.uncc.edu/honors-programs-and-societies

Dual Honors: Students must complete requirements in both UHP and a department/college honors program.

Merit Scholars Programs: Albert Scholars, Crown Scholars, Levine Scholars, and Martin Scholars are recipients of major four-year merit scholarships funded by University donors. Students must participate in the program and meet all scholarship conditions. [levinescholars.uncc.edu, honorscollege.uncc.edu/scholarships

Graduation with Distinction: Undergraduate degrees are awarded Summa Cum Laude when the graduate's cumulative grade point average is 3.9 to 4.0, Magna Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.7 or above but less than 3.9, and Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.4 or above but less than 3.7. To be eligible to graduate with distinction, a student must have a grade point average computed on at least 48 semester hours of credit completed in residence at UNC Charlotte. Honor cord colors are green/white for Summa Cum Laude graduates, white for Magna Cum Laude graduates, and green for Cum Laude graduates.

The commencement program must be prepared in advance. Therefore, notations for honors are based upon student achievements as of the preceding term and are tentative. Final determination of graduation with honors is made upon completion of the student’s final term.

DEAN W. COLVARD, FIRST CHANCELLOR (1913-2007)

In April 1966, Dr. Dean W. Colvard became the first chancellor of The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. During his 12-year tenure, he presided over a period of rapid campus growth and development. Under his leadership, the institution was organized into colleges, residence halls were built, graduate work was initiated, and long-range planning started. His accomplishments include helping to create the University Research Park and the University’s Urban Institute, whose mission is to seek solutions to the social, economic, and environmental challenges facing Charlotte and its urban communities. Colvard joined the University from the presidency of Mississippi State University, and he also served as a dean at North Carolina State University. Following his retirement in December 1978, Colvard helped complete Charlotte’s Discovery Place Museum and was the founding board chair of the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics. He also wrote books about his experience at NC State, Mississippi State, and UNC Charlotte. In 2001, Colvard received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award, and in 2004, he received the Echo Foundation’s Award Against Indifference. Colvard died in June 2007.

E.K. Fretwell, U.S. Higher Education Leader
(1923-2012)

Dr. E.K. Fretwell used his national higher education leadership to gain recognition for UNC Charlotte. He became the University’s second chancellor in January 1979 after serving as president of State University of New York College at Buffalo, and before that as assistant commissioner for higher education of the N.Y. State Education Department. During his career, he led some of America’s most prominent higher education associations - president of the American Association for Higher Education, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, chair of the American Council on Education, and chair of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. In addition, Fretwell was named one of the 100 most effective chancellors and university presidents in the United States in a national study. After retiring in 1989, he served as interim president of the five-campus University of Massachusetts, authored several books on university management, and consulted on higher education around the country and the world. He was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree during UNC Charlotte’s spring 1998 Commencement ceremonies. In 2002, he received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award. Fretwell died October 18, 2012.

UNC Charlotte’s logo has become one of the Charlotte region’s most distinctive insignia. It symbolizes the University’s links to the UNC system, the Charlotte metropolitan region, and the discipline of learning. The logo is suggestive of a “crown,” reminiscent of Queen Charlotte, for whom the city of Charlotte is named. The “crown” also can be interpreted as a lamp of learning, a burning bush, an open book, the flowering of a plant or an individual, or a graduate in cap and gown. The letters “UNC” refer to the University of North Carolina, which opened in 1795 as the nation’s first public university. The word “Charlotte” not only refers to the city but also to the surrounding metropolitan region.

History of the Alma Mater

Creation of UNC Charlotte's Alma Mater is rooted deep in the University's history. It is part of the “Academic Festival March” that was composed for UNC Charlotte by James Helme Sutcliffe, a Charlotte composer and music critic who lived in Germany at the time.

Dr. Loy Witherspoon, professor of religious studies, commissioned the march in 1965 after he learned Charlotte College would become a campus of the consolidated UNC system. The march was initially performed in 1967 for the installation of Dean W. Colvard as UNC Charlotte's first chancellor. Afterward, it was performed as a recessional at every commencement held during Chancellor Colvard’s tenure.

UNC Charlotte founder Bonnie Cone, upon hearing the march, remarked, “I can hear an alma mater in it,” referring to a hymn-like final refrain. Dr. Robert Rieke, a professor of history, also heard an alma mater in the march. During a 1990 trip to Germany, Rieke visited march composer Sutcliffe, where he picked up a recording of the march. Rieke began writing words to fit the final refrain. On Christmas Eve 1991, Rieke sent Bonnie Cone the words and music as a Christmas present to her and the University, from which he had retired a year earlier.

Chancellor James H. Woodward approved Rieke's composition as the University's Alma Mater in April 1992. It was sung for the first time at the following May commencement and has been performed at every commencement since.

Honorary Degree: Doctor of Humane Letters
Julius Rolf Weinberg

Professor Julius Weinberg believes in the power of education and the multiplying, accelerating and positive force it has on all who pursue it. His passion for lifelong learning fuels his belief that education is a passport to a more enriching future in an ever-increasingly, interconnected global society. As Vice Chancellor of Kingston University London, he fostered a dynamic international partnership with UNC Charlotte. The exchange may have started more than thirty years ago, but it has never been stronger due to the astute guidance of Weinberg.

Under his leadership, the collaboration between Kingston University London and UNC Charlotte flourished to include a more robust faculty and staff exchange, increased short-term programs at both institutions, and numerous creative projects that advanced the combined institutional missions to prepare students to better navigate a more diverse workplace.

UNC Charlotte’s connection with Kingston University London has left an enduring imprint. The collaboration between these two great institutions has been beneficial for students and faculty, both professionally and personally. Weinberg warmly embraced UNC Charlotte and served as an exemplary ambassador for the power of internationalization.

At the University of Oxford, Weinberg earned bachelor’s degrees in physiological sciences, medicine, and surgery and completed a Doctorate of Medicine. Additionally, he finished specialist training as a physician in infectious diseases, general medicine, and public health medicine. Weinberg’s long and distinguished career in the academy of medical research and higher education underscores the range of his influence. His scope of expertise ranges from cellular biology and physiology to mathematical modeling and computer games in education.

Weinberg served Kingston University London as Vice Chancellor from 2011 to 2017. Prior to that, he was Deputy Vice Chancellor at City University London beginning in 2006, with a year as Acting Vice Chancellor from 2009-2010. He is currently the Chair of Ofsted, the Office for Standards in Education, Children’s Services and Skills. Ofsted inspects and regulates services that care for children and young people, and services providing education and skills for learners of all ages in England.

A staunch advocate for institutions of higher learning, Weinberg was quoted as saying, “Universities are places of learning. Their role is not to keep their learning private but to disseminate it. An informed society is a better, richer, healthier and more tolerant place.”

For his unceasing efforts on behalf of UNC Charlotte and its students, faculty and staff, UNC Charlotte awards the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, to Julius Weinberg.

James H. Woodward, Building for the Future

Dr. James H. Woodward became UNC Charlotte’s third chancellor in 1989, immediately establishing himself as one of the leading executives of the Charlotte metropolitan region. A U.S. Air Force veteran, he worked in private industry and taught at N.C. State University, the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he was a senior vice president for academic affairs, prior to coming to UNC Charlotte. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte launched ambitious plans for both physical and intellectual growth. Woodward built strong support among the region’s corporate and political leaders, obtained approval to expand the University’s mission to include doctoral programs, and raised the University to doctoral/research intensive status. He established UNC Charlotte Uptown to serve students in the central business district. An engineer, Woodward generated support to build the James H. Barnhardt Student Activity Center and the Irwin Belk Track and Field Center, obtained state funding for doubling the size of Atkins Library, and was instrumental in garnering public support to pass a $3.1 billion statewide bond referendum that enabled UNC Charlotte to construct or renovate nearly a dozen buildings. He retired in 2005. Woodward has received numerous honors, including the naming of the science and technology building in 2005 as James H. and Martha H. Woodward Hall in recognition of his 16 years of service. In May 2011, UNC Charlotte awarded him an honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service. Woodward received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award in 2012. In November 2017, he was awarded the North Carolina Award for Public Service, the highest award a civilian can receive from the Governor.
On March 18, 2005, Philip L. Dubois was named UNC Charlotte’s fourth chancellor, and he assumed that role on July 15, 2005. Dubois has focused his efforts on building the University’s visibility and support in the Charlotte region; long-range planning for an expected enrollment of 35,000 students; completion of key capital construction projects including UNC Charlotte Center City, the Energy Production and Infrastructure Center, and the PORTAL building; improvement in the efficiency and effectiveness of critical business processes; and implementation of an intercollegiate football program that started in the fall of 2013.

Dubois began his academic career in 1976 at the University of California, Davis. During the next fifteen years, he rose through the faculty and administrative ranks to full professor and held various administrative posts, including associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.

In 1991, Dubois was recruited to UNC Charlotte where he spent the next five and a half years as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. Dubois was credited with drafting a strategic academic plan, leading the development of the University’s first comprehensive campus-wide plan for information technology, and initiating programs to better serve nontraditional adult students. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte also planned and launched its first doctoral programs.

In 1997, Dubois was named president of the University of Wyoming (UW). In that role, he led the development of comprehensive academic, support services, and capital construction plans for the campus; stimulated a growing volume of new capital construction projects and building renovations; expanded UW’s role in statewide economic development; and improved the recruitment and retention of students. During his tenure, state and federal legislative support increased significantly, while private gifts to the University more than quadrupled. He served as president for eight years before returning to UNC Charlotte as chancellor.

Recent community recognitions for Dr. Dubois and UNC Charlotte include the World Affairs Council of Charlotte “World Citizen Award” (2016), the CASE III Inclusion and Diversity Leadership Award (2015), the Leo M. Lambert Engaged Leader Award (2014), the Belk Innovation in Diversity Award (2013), the Charlotte Energy Leadership Award (2013), the Charlotte Cornerstone Award (2012, for positive economic impact), and the Charlotte Regional Partnership “Jerry” Award (2009, for public sector contributions to economic development).

Dubois and his wife, Lisa Lewis Dubois, have three adult children and are the first family to occupy the chancellor’s official campus residence, Bissell House.

The University Nickname - 49ERS

The "49ers" nickname was chosen in recognition of the importance of the year 1949 in the history of the University. UNC Charlotte, which began as an off-campus center of the University of North Carolina, would have died in 1949 had Bonnie Cone and her supporters not convinced the N.C. Legislature that Charlotte needed a permanent institution of higher learning. Charlotte College was established that year. It is fortuitous that the University campus is located on N.C. Highway 49 and that Charlotte has a rich gold mining history.

A bronze statue of the 49er Gold Miner sits in the Cato College of Education and College of Health and Human Services Plaza. The statue recalls the region's history as a gold mining center and symbolizes the pioneering spirit and determination that has led to UNC Charlotte's dramatic growth.

Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on this significant achievement! You are a graduate of UNC Charlotte - an "AlumNiner."

The UNC Charlotte Alumni Association, representing 130,000 alumni, is here to keep you connected and engaged with the University and your fellow graduates throughout the many phases of your life. You will always be a member of Niner Nation!

Our top priorities are to build and sustain relationships that connect, engage, and inspire loyalty, tradition, and pride between the University and its alumni to help advance our graduates and the institution. Our offerings include:

- Homecoming
- AlumNiner Weekend
- Alumni Tailgate Village
- Lifetime Career Services
- Networking Events
- Official 49er Class Ring
- Alumni Awards
- And much more

For information on all the ways you can stay connected and involved, visit 49erAlumni.uncc.edu and be sure to connect through Facebook, Twitter, and/or Instagram (search for 49erAlumni) and make sure to join our group on LinkedIn (search for UNC Charlotte Alumni).

BE A PART OF 49ER WAY

Dedicated in 2016, 49er Way is one of UNC Charlotte's newest landmarks. This brick walkway is located between Cameron Boulevard and Jerry Richardson Stadium. These bricks, honoring UNC Charlotte alumni, lead the 49er football team, "Pride of Niner Nation" Marching Band, students, alumni, faculty, staff and fans from Hauser Alumni Pavilion to the stadium. Commemorate the hard work and dedication of your UNC Charlotte student through a personalized brick. Make a gift to honor a graduate and leave their legacy as a part of 49er Way. Graduates wearing a black stole during the commencement ceremony have already made their memorable class gift.

For more information and to purchase your brick, visit Crowdfund.uncc.edu/SeniorGift.
The Noble Niner UNC Charlotte Honor Code

Scholarship
A Niner shall strive for academic excellence in and out of the classroom while maintaining academic honesty and ethical values.

Integrity
A Niner shall act to uphold and improve one’s self, the community, and the high standards of the institution.

Respect
A Niner shall welcome all aspects of individuality and self-worth while embracing the learning opportunities that diversity provides.

Accountability
A Niner shall hold others responsible for their actions while accepting responsibility for one's own.

Dignity
A Niner shall appreciate the intrinsic value of the institution and work to preserve the 49er environment.

Honor
A Niner shall appreciate students, faculty, administration, and staff as contributing members of the University community.

Compassion
A Niner shall demonstrate genuine consideration and concern for the needs, feelings, ideas, and well-being of others.

Character
A Niner shall exemplify all qualities and traits that promote fellowship and camaraderie among the student body, faculty, staff, and administration.

Nobility
A Niner shall exhibit the virtues and values listed above which befit all members of our Niner Nation.
Thanks to a scholarship, Dana Erato ’99, '01 was able to earn her undergraduate degree at UNC Charlotte while serving as four-year captain of the inaugural women’s soccer team. She started 63 of the 81 games in which she played, tallying 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points. Dana also added four game-winning goals and 100 shots during her career and was a member of the program’s first Conference USA Tournament championship squad in 1995.

“I knew the only way I was going to be able to play Division 1 soccer while getting a stellar education was through a soccer scholarship,” says Dana. “UNC Charlotte gave me that wonderful gift, and I knew from the day I signed my scholarship papers that I wanted to do the same thing for another young soccer player one day.”

Today, Dana and her family are making a difference and paying it forward for other student-athletes at UNC Charlotte through an endowed scholarship for women’s soccer.

“I received a wonderful education and had a fantastic experience due to the superb teachers, coaches and support staff I had and all of the campus facilities at my fingertips,” says Dana. “I am so proud to be a 49er!”

The power of you makes it possible. Join us.
