To Our Graduates:

Commencement marks a major transition for graduates. This is the culmination of your transformative journey here at UNC Charlotte. You are not the same person you were when you attended your first class or stepped through the doors of the Popp Martin Student Union and the J. Murrey Atkins Library for the first time.

In your time on campus, your physical appearance may have changed. Lively classroom discussions and topics of study may have influenced your views on social, cultural, and political issues. You have had opportunities to interact with individuals from other cultures and to engage in the greater Charlotte community. You also have witnessed important developments in the identity of this institution that will strengthen its future and add to the value of your degree. What began as the Charlotte Center in 1946, humbly serving returning WWII veterans, has transformed into this region's urban research powerhouse and has become one of the great success stories in American higher education. Your alma mater will continue to evolve, and we hope you will always fondly recall your days here.

As we close out the calendar year, I am pleased to report that it was historic in many ways:

- UNC Charlotte is firmly cementing its place among the top echelon of universities in the southeast region as evidenced by our continued record enrollment. We welcomed 29,710 students, including 24,387 undergraduates to campus for the fall semester. UNC Charlotte is one of the fastest-growing campuses within the UNC System, with the second-largest undergraduate population in the 17-campus system and third-largest total student enrollment. The freshmen and transfer students who joined us continued to strengthen the already stellar academic credentials and diversity of our student body.

- One of the exciting side effects of our continued enrollment growth is the steady stream of construction and renovation projects we have going on around campus. We have invested more than $1.2 billion in construction and renovation since 2005. The construction of the Admissions and Visitors Center is underway and scheduled to wrap up in March 2019 and we’re all beyond excited for the summer 2019 completion of the University Recreation Center.

- Exponential: The Campaign for UNC Charlotte continues to advance the University by providing scholarships to students, research opportunities to faculty, and reaffirming our position as an economic engine for the Charlotte region. We now have a college, six buildings, and a promenade on campus named after alumni, including the Hunter and Stephanie Edwards Promenade, Hauser Alumni Pavilion, Johnson Band Center, Dhiaa Jamil Niner Student Pantry, Karen A. Popp and Demond T. Martin Student Union, Cato College of Education, and the Christine F. Price Center for Counseling and Psychological Services.

- Finally, as the University continues its upward trajectory, its commitment to remain connected to all of Charlotte has become easier with the addition of the Blue Line Extension, which opened in March 2018. It has truly been one of the biggest game changers in our University’s history, connecting the city’s financial, high tech, and cultural centers with the thriving UNC Charlotte campus.

I hope you will continue to grow in pride for your alma mater as the years go by and will sense that you have had a part in our success. We are happy to share this important day with you. I speak for all UNC Charlotte administrators, faculty and staff when I offer congratulations to each of our new graduates and to your steadfast family members and friends who might have thought this day would never come. Graduates, let today commence a new relationship with UNC Charlotte in which you embrace your identity as a member of our alumni network. Wherever you go, you will always be a 49er!

Cordially,

Philip L. Dubois
Chancellor
To Our Guests

To help ensure that the ceremony is conducted in a dignified manner, family members and others attending are asked to remain in their seats during the ceremony. Aisles must be kept clear, and videography and still photography are not allowed at the railings or on the arena floor. Only graduates, faculty, authorized staff, and news media will be allowed on the floor before and during the ceremony.

A DVD will be produced by GradImages showing segments of the commencement ceremony and every graduate being congratulated. GradImages will also produce still photographs of each graduate. GradImages will contact all graduates concerning purchase of the DVD and photographs. Graduates may check their UNC Charlotte email account the Tuesday following Commencement to see digital photographic proofs. Further information is available online at www.gradimages.com.

Procession

The University Marshal will lead the procession, followed by the degree candidates, faculty, department chairs, platform party, and the Chancellor.

The Mace

The mace, carried by the University Marshal, is an ancient symbol of authority dating to 14th-century Europe. The UNC Charlotte mace includes symbols relating to the institution’s history and its setting in North Carolina and Mecklenburg County. The base is formed of a gold pine cone, with the lower portion of the staff carved of native walnut. The upper portion of the staff is formed in silver. Crowning the mace is a hornet’s nest in gold plate which sits on a large dogwood bloom. The mace was crafted by Barry Merritt of the Penland School of Crafts.

Academic Regalia

The gowns, hoods, and tassels worn in an academic ceremony designate the level of the degree, the academic discipline in which the degree was awarded, and the institution from which the degree was received. Medallions may indicate that the wearers have earned recognition for academic honors or that they are members of one or more student organizations.

Styles of gowns may vary, but the doctoral gown is generally marked by velvet panels down the front, around the neck, and across the sleeves.

Tassels may be black for any degree or in the color of the discipline in which the degree was awarded. Doctors and governing officials of institutions may wear tassels of gold metallic thread.

The hood identifies the level of the degree, the discipline in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it. The master’s hood is three and one-half feet long, and the doctor’s hood is four feet long. The velvet trim on the hood is three inches wide for the master’s and five inches for the doctor’s. The design of the hood and color of its lining designate the discipline in which the degree was awarded.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is committed to providing equal educational and employment opportunities for all members of the University community and for all those seeking to join the University community.

In case of an emergency, find the nearest campus police officer or commencement personnel.
Joe L. Price ’83, has served as chair of the UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees since July 2016. He has been a member of the Board since 2007 and previously served as vice chair and chair of two board committees. Price also serves on the Board of Advisors of the Belk College of Business.

As an alumnus whose connection to the University runs deep, Price knows the value of UNC Charlotte's commitment—past and future—to the region.

“Our start as the Charlotte Center, which was created to educate veterans returning from World War II, was a humble beginning. Today UNC Charlotte is North Carolina’s urban research University, awarding more than 7,000 degrees each year and helping to shape and lead Charlotte’s dynamic economy,” Price says.

While University alumni find their successes across the globe, the majority of them stay here in the Charlotte region, Price notes. “Graduates in every field—among them teaching, computer and data sciences, accounting and finance, health-related fields, engineering, and the liberal and performing arts—will make contributions to the region’s economic, social, and cultural future.”

Price is a finance executive who held many positions with Bank of America for nearly 20 years—including chief financial officer, global corporate and investment banking risk management executive, president of Consumer and Small Business Banking—and served as a member of the bank’s executive management team. Prior to joining Bank of America in 1993, he was affiliated with Price Waterhouse and was a member of the Financial Institutions National Industry Group.

Price is currently a senior advisor for Falfurrias Capital, a private equity firm, and is a board member of RegEd and Tax Guard, a compliance software systems provider and underwriting assistance provider, respectively, to the financial services industry. He also serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of Habitat for Humanity’s worldwide operations and is active with Habitat for Humanity of Charlotte and the UNC Charlotte student chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

Price and his wife, Christine, for whom UNC Charlotte’s Christine F. Price Center for Counseling and Psychological Services is named, reside in Charlotte and have two grown daughters and a son.

The UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees also includes Michael L. Wilson, Vice Chair; Susan D. DeVore, Secretary; Dennis N. Bunker III; Sharon Alred Decker; Theresa J. Drew; Dhiaa Jamil; J. Brett Keeter; Fred W. Klein, Jr.; Mary Ann Rouse; Laura A. Schulte; Teross W. Young, Jr.; and Niayai L. Lavien, Student Body President.

UNC Charlotte's logo has become one of the Charlotte region's most distinctive insignia. It symbolizes the University's links to the UNC System, the Charlotte metropolitan region, and the discipline of learning. The logo is suggestive of a “crown,” reminiscent of Queen Charlotte, for whom the city of Charlotte is named. The “crown” also can be interpreted as a lamp of learning, a burning bush, an open book, the flowering of a plant or an individual, or a graduate in cap and gown. The letters “UNC” refer to the University of North Carolina, which opened in 1795 as the nation's first public university. The word “Charlotte” not only refers to the city but also to the surrounding metropolitan region.
UNC Charlotte Bell

The UNC Charlotte Bell, which for many years hung in the belfry of the old Elizabeth School at East Fifth Street and Travis Avenue in Charlotte, was given to Charlotte College in 1960 to be rung on ceremonial occasions.

It has been rung on special occasions such as March 2, 1965, when Charlotte College became the fourth branch of the University of North Carolina System and on August 11, 2010, to celebrate clearing the final hurdle to field UNC Charlotte’s football team.

Student Commencement Bell Ringers

The ringing of the UNC Charlotte Bell at Commencement is an honorable tradition that recognizes an outstanding student leader who has demonstrated exemplary 49er spirit.

The student leaders chosen to ring the bell for the Fall 2018 Commencement Ceremonies are Ryan A. Detig (Friday afternoon), Sadhana Vangapalli (Saturday morning), and Amaya D. Pressley (Saturday afternoon).

Student Commencement Speakers

Greetings from the Fall 2018 graduating class will be given by Humaira Retiwalla (Friday afternoon), Kaitlin E. Klotz (Saturday morning), and Megan M. Hess (Saturday afternoon). They were chosen as Student Commencement Speakers through a competitive process. All graduating seniors are invited to submit applications and speeches for this honor. The Commencement Speaker Selection Committee consists of faculty, staff, and student representatives. All speaker candidates must present their speeches to the selection committee. To be selected, a candidate must be a graduating student of high academic achievement and demonstrate excellent character through leadership, service, and school spirit. The selected candidates represent their peers in an articulate and meaningful way by reflecting on their experiences and education at UNC Charlotte.

History of the University

UNC Charlotte was one of a generation of institutions founded in metropolitan areas following World War II. Created as the Charlotte Center, the institution opened on September 23, 1946. It offered evening classes to an initial class of 278 freshmen and sophomores in the facilities of Charlotte’s Central High School. In 1949, the city’s pioneering business and civic leaders, aware of the region’s unmet need for a public institution of higher education, moved to have the Charlotte Center taken over by the city school district and operated as Charlotte College, offering the first two years of college courses.

By 1961, the firmly established Charlotte College was experiencing rapid growth that resulted in the establishment of a campus of its own. In the same year, Charlotte College leaders moved its burgeoning student population into the first two buildings on what would become a 1,000-acre campus ten miles from downtown Charlotte. In 1963, the North Carolina legislature approved bills making Charlotte College a four-year, state-supported institution. In 1965, the legislature passed bills designating the College the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the fourth campus of the consolidated state system. Expansion continued as the University began offering master’s degrees in 1969. In 1992, UNC Charlotte received authorization for its first doctoral programs. Today, UNC Charlotte is the state’s urban research institution and the system’s third largest public university with nearly 30,000 students enrolled in 75 bachelor’s, 65 master’s and 24 doctoral degree programs.
Bonnie E. Cone, Our Founder (1907-2003)

Bonnie E. Cone, the founder of UNC Charlotte, served the institution from its earliest days in 1946. Beginning as a teacher that year, she became director of the Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1947. She persuaded the legislature to keep the institution alive in 1949 when it was scheduled to close, resulting in the establishment of Charlotte College, which she served as president. The college became a four-year, state-supported institution in 1963. Cone was given her greatest acclaim for leading the successful campaign to convert Charlotte College into The University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1965. She then served as vice chancellor for student affairs until her official retirement. Cone died March 8, 2003. In spring 2004, she was interred in Van Landingham Glen on the campus she loved and to which she dedicated her life.

The honor of being a student marshal goes to juniors who have the highest cumulative grade point average among full time students during the previous two semesters. Only students who have completed two semesters or 24 credit hours at UNC Charlotte prior to the current semester are considered for this honor.

Explanation of Honors

University Honors Program: The University Honors Program (UHP) is an interdisciplinary honors curriculum that complements any major. Students in the program strive to broaden their perspectives while developing as scholar-citizens. The program consists of a core academic curriculum, honors elective courses, a senior capstone project, and community engagement. To graduate with University Honors, a student must: complete all program requirements; maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and a 3.2 grade point average in honors courses; and receive a senior project grade of "A." uhponcc.edu

Department/College Honors: To qualify for graduation with honors recognition in a department or college honors program, a student must: meet the grade point averages required (cumulative, in the department/college, and in honors courses); complete an honors capstone thesis or project and receive an "A" for that course; complete any additional requirements specified by the program; and be recommended by the program's honors committee for graduation with honors. honorscollege.uncc.edu/honors-programs-and-societies

Dual Honors: Students must complete requirements in both UHP and a department/college honors program.

Merit Scholars Programs: Albert Scholars, Crown Scholars, Levine Scholars, and Martin Scholars are recipients of major four-year merit scholarships funded by University donors. Students must participate in the program and meet all scholarship conditions. levinescholars.uncc.edu, honorscollege.uncc.edu/scholarships

Graduation with Distinction: Undergraduate degrees are awarded Summa Cum Laude when the graduate's cumulative grade point average is 3.9 to 4.0, Magna Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.7 or above but less than 3.9, and Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.4 or above but less than 3.7. To be eligible to graduate with distinction, a student must have a grade point average computed on at least 48 semester hours of credit completed in residence at UNC Charlotte. Honor cord colors are green/white for Summa Cum Laude graduates, white for Magna Cum Laude graduates, and green for Cum Laude graduates.

The commencement program must be prepared in advance. Therefore, notations for honors are based upon student achievements as of the preceding term and are tentative. Final determination of graduation with honors is made upon completion of the student's final term.

Dean W. Colvard, First Chancellor (1913-2007)

In April 1966, Dr. Dean W. Colvard became the first chancellor of The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. During his 12-year tenure, he presided over a period of rapid campus growth and development. Under his leadership, the institution was organized into colleges, residence halls were built, graduate work was initiated, and long-range planning started. His accomplishments include helping to create the University Research Park and the University's Urban Institute, whose mission is to seek solutions to the social, economic, and environmental challenges facing Charlotte and its urban communities. Colvard joined the University from the presidency of Mississippi State University, and he also served as a dean at North Carolina State University. Following his retirement in December 1978, Colvard helped complete Charlotte's Discovery Place Museum and was the founding board chair of the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics. He also wrote books about his experience at NC State, Mississippi State, and UNC Charlotte. In 2001, Colvard received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus by Choice Award, and in 2004, he received the Echo Foundation's Award Against Indifference. Colvard died in June 2007.

E.K. FRETWELL, U.S. HIGHER EDUCATION LEADER
(1923-2012)

Dr. E.K. Fretwell used his national higher education leadership to gain recognition for UNC Charlotte. He became the University’s second chancellor in January 1979 after serving as president of State University of New York College at Buffalo, and before that as assistant commissioner for higher education of the N.Y. State Education Department. During his career, he led some of America’s most prominent higher education associations - president of the American Association for Higher Education, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, chair of the American Council on Education, and chair of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. In addition, Fretwell was named one of the 100 most effective chancellors and university presidents in the United States in a national study. After retiring in 1989, he served as interim president of the five-campus University of Massachusetts, authored several books on university management, and consulted on higher education around the country and the world. He was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree during UNC Charlotte's spring 1998 Commencement ceremonies. In 2002, he received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award. Fretwell died October 18, 2012.
James H. Woodward, Building for the Future

Dr. James H. Woodward became UNC Charlotte’s third chancellor in 1989, immediately establishing himself as one of the leading executives of the Charlotte metropolitan region. A U.S. Air Force veteran, he worked in private industry and taught at N.C. State University, the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he was a senior vice president for academic affairs, prior to coming to UNC Charlotte. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte launched ambitious plans for both physical and intellectual growth. Woodward built strong support among the region's corporate and political leaders, obtained approval to expand the University’s mission to include doctoral programs, and raised the University to doctoral/research intensive status. He established UNC Charlotte Uptown to serve students in the central business district. An engineer, Woodward generated support to build the James H. Barnhardt Student Activity Center and the Irwin Belk Track and Field Center, obtained state funding for doubling the size of Atkins Library, and was instrumental in garnering public support to pass a $3.1 billion statewide bond referendum that enabled UNC Charlotte to construct or renovate nearly a dozen buildings. He retired in 2005. Woodward has received numerous honors, including the naming of the science and technology building in 2005 as James H. and Martha H. Woodward Hall in recognition of his 16 years of service. In May 2011, UNC Charlotte awarded him an honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service. Woodward received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award in 2012. In November 2017, he was awarded the North Carolina Award for Public Service, the highest award a civilian can receive from the Governor.

Chancellor Philip L. Dubois

Philip L. Dubois became UNC Charlotte’s fourth chancellor in July 2005.

A native of Oakland, California, Dubois attended the University of California, Davis, where he graduated with highest honors in 1972 with an undergraduate degree in political science. He then earned master’s (1974) and doctoral (1978) degrees in the field from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Dubois began his academic career in 1976 at the University of California, Davis. Over the next 15 years, he rose through the faculty ranks to full professor and held various administrative posts, including associate vice chancellor for academic affairs. In 1991, Dubois was recruited to UNC Charlotte to be its chief academic officer, the provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. He left UNC Charlotte in 1997 to serve as President of the University of Wyoming, a post he held for eight years until returning to Charlotte.

Now in his fourteenth year as Chancellor, Dubois has focused his efforts on building the University’s visibility and support in the Charlotte region; long-range planning for an expected enrollment of 35,000 students; completion of key capital construction projects including UNC Charlotte Center City, the Energy Production and Infrastructure Center (EPIC), and industry partnership hub PORTAL; implementation of an intercollegiate football program starting in the fall of 2013; and, as of March 2018, the expansion of light rail onto our campus, connecting us to Center City as never before.

Recent community recognitions for Dubois and UNC Charlotte include the Eileen Tosney Award for Career Service in Higher Education Leadership (2018), inclusion on the North Carolina Power 100 list (2018), the Higher Education Civic Engagement Award from the Washington Center (2016), the World Affairs Council of Charlotte’s World Citizen Award (2016), the CASE III Inclusion and Diversity Leadership Award (2015), the Leo M. Lambert Engaged Leader Award (2014), the Belk Innovation in Diversity Award (2013), the Charlotte Energy Leadership Award (2013), the Charlotte Cornerstone Award (2012, for positive economic impact), the Creative Thinker’s Award (2012, for UNC Charlotte—Center City), and the Charlotte Regional Partnership “Jerry” Award (2009, for public sector contributions to economic development).

Dubois and his wife, Lisa Lewis Dubois, reside on campus in the Sara H. Bissell House. They have three adult children: Logan, Taylor, and Ali.

History of the Alma Mater

Creation of UNC Charlotte's Alma Mater is rooted deep in the University's history. It is part of the “Academic Festival March” that was composed for UNC Charlotte by James Helme Sutcliffe, a Charlotte composer and music critic who lived in Germany at the time.

Dr. Loy Witherspoon, professor of religious studies, commissioned the march in 1965 after he learned Charlotte College would become a campus of the consolidated UNC system. The march was initially performed in 1967 for the installation of Dean W. Colvard as UNC Charlotte’s first chancellor. Afterward, it was performed as a recessional at every commencement held during Chancellor Colvard’s tenure.

UNC Charlotte founder Bonnie Cone, upon hearing the march, remarked, “I can hear an alma mater in it,” referring to a hymn-like final refrain. Dr. Robert Rieke, a professor of history, also heard an alma mater in the march. During a 1990 trip to Germany, Rieke visited march composer Sutcliffe, where he picked up a recording of the march. Rieke began writing words to fit the final refrain. On Christmas Eve 1991, Rieke sent Bonnie Cone the words and music as a Christmas present to her and the University, from which he had retired a year earlier.

Chancellor James H. Woodward approved Rieke’s composition as the University’s Alma Mater in April 1992. It was sung for the first time at the following May commencement and has been performed at every commencement since.

- And much more

For information on all the ways you can stay connected and involved, visit 49erAlumni.uncc.edu and be sure to connect through Facebook, Twitter, and/or Instagram (search for 49erAlumni) and make sure to join our group on LinkedIn (search for UNC Charlotte Alumni).

BE A PART OF 49ER WAY

Dedicated in 2016, 49er Way is one of UNC Charlotte's newest landmarks. This brick walkway is located between Cameron Boulevard and Jerry Richardson Stadium. These bricks, honoring UNC Charlotte alumni, lead the 49er football team, Pride of Niner Nation Marching Band, students, alumni, faculty, staff and fans from Hauser Alumni Pavilion to the stadium. Commemorate the hard work and dedication of your UNC Charlotte student through a personalized brick. Make a gift to honor a graduate and leave their legacy as a part of 49er Way. Graduates wearing a black stole during the commencement ceremony have already made their class gift.

For more information and to purchase your brick, visit Crowdfund.uncc.edu/Classof2019.

The University Nickname - 49ers

The "49ers" nickname was chosen in recognition of the importance of the year 1949 in the history of the University. UNC Charlotte, which began as an off-campus center of the University of North Carolina, would have died in 1949 had Bonnie Cone and her supporters not convinced the N.C. Legislature that Charlotte needed a permanent institution of higher learning. Charlotte College was established that year. It is fortuitous that the University campus is located on N.C. Highway 49 and that Charlotte has a rich gold mining history.

A bronze statue of the 49er Gold Miner sits in the Cato College of Education and College of Health and Human Services Plaza. The statue recalls the region's history as a gold mining center and symbolizes the pioneering spirit and determination that has led to UNC Charlotte's dramatic growth.
Thanks to a scholarship, Dana Erato ’99, ’01 was able to earn her undergraduate degree at UNC Charlotte while serving as four-year captain of the inaugural women’s soccer team. She started 63 of the 81 games in which she played, tallying 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points. Dana also added four game-winning goals and 100 shots during her career and was a member of the program’s first Conference USA Tournament championship squad in 1995.

“I knew the only way I was going to be able to play Division 1 soccer while getting a stellar education was through a soccer scholarship,” says Dana. “UNC Charlotte gave me that wonderful gift, and I knew from the day I signed my scholarship papers that I wanted to do the same thing for another young soccer player one day.”

Today, Dana and her family are making a difference and paying it forward for other student-athletes at UNC Charlotte through an endowed scholarship for women’s soccer.

“I received a wonderful education and had a fantastic experience due to the superb teachers, coaches and support staff I had and all of the campus facilities at my fingertips,” says Dana. “I am so proud to be a 49er!”
