Greetings from the Chancellor

To Our Graduates:

Commencement marks a major transition for graduates. This is the culmination of your transformative journey here at UNC Charlotte. You are not the same person you were when you attended your first class or stepped through the doors of the Popp Martin Student Union and the J. Murrey Atkins Library for the first time.

In your time on campus, your physical appearance may have changed. Lively classroom discussions and topics of study may have influenced your views on social, cultural, and political issues. You have had opportunities to interact with individuals from other cultures and to engage in the greater Charlotte community. You also have witnessed important developments in the identity of this institution that will strengthen its future and add to the value of your degree. Your alma mater will continue to evolve, but we hope you always will fondly recall your days here.

You have been part of the phenomenal growth that continues today. What began as the Charlotte Center in 1946, humbly serving returning WWII veterans, has transformed into this region’s urban research powerhouse and has become one of the great success stories in American higher education.

As we close out the academic year, I am pleased to report that it was historic in many ways:

• UNC Charlotte is firmly cementing its place among the top echelon of universities in the region as evidenced by our record enrollment. With 29,317 students, including 23,914 undergraduates enrolled this year, UNC Charlotte now has the second-largest undergraduate population in the 17-campus UNC System. The freshmen and transfer students who joined us continued to strengthen the already stellar academic credentials and diversity of our student body.

• Exponential: The Campaign for UNC Charlotte celebrated an important milestone by reaching $150M toward its $200M goal. Exponential is advancing UNC Charlotte by providing scholarships to students, research opportunities to faculty, and reaffirming our position as an economic engine for the Charlotte region. This past year alone, 33 endowed scholarships and 10 non-endowed scholarships were created through Exponential. We now have a college, six buildings, and a promenade on campus named after alumni, including the Hunter and Stephanie Edwards Promenade, Hauser Alumni Pavilion, Vickie and Gene Johnson Marching Band Center, Dhiaa Jamil Niner Student Pantry, Karen A. Popp and Demond T. Martin Student Union, Cato College of Education, and the Christine F. Price Center for Counseling and Psychological Services.

• UNC Charlotte and 49er athletics welcomed Mike Hill as our new athletics director. He spent 25 years as an athletics administrator at the University of Florida, most recently as the executive associate athletics director for external affairs. Mike’s first addition came with the hiring of Ron Sanchez as the 11th head men’s basketball coach for external affairs. Sanchez arrived on campus after spending the last nine years on the coaching staff at nationally ranked University of Virginia.

• In March, one of the biggest game changers in University history became a reality. The first light rail train rolled onto campus, marking the official opening of the 9.3-mile LYNX Blue Line Extension that links UNC Charlotte’s main campus, students, staff, and faculty with UNC Charlotte Center City. This long-anticipated arrival connects the city’s financial, high tech, and cultural centers with the thriving UNC Charlotte campus. Light rail connects us all.

I hope your pride in your alma mater will continue to grow as the years go by and that you’ll feel a sense of ownership in our success. We are happy to share this important day with you. I speak for all UNC Charlotte administrators, faculty, and staff when I offer congratulations to each of our new graduates and to your steadfast family members and friends who might have thought this day would never come. Graduates, let today commence a new relationship with UNC Charlotte in which you embrace your identity as a member of our alumni network. Wherever you go, you will always be a 49er!

Cordially,

Philip L. Dubois
Chancellor
To Our Guests

To help ensure that the ceremony is conducted in a dignified manner, family members and others attending are asked to remain in their seats during the ceremony. Aisles must be kept clear, and videography and still photography are not allowed at the railings or on the arena floor. Only graduates, faculty, authorized staff, and news media will be allowed on the floor before and during the ceremony.

A DVD will be produced by GradImages showing segments of the commencement ceremony and every graduate being congratulated. GradImages will also produce still photographs of each graduate. GradImages will contact all graduates concerning purchase of the DVD and photographs. Graduates may check their UNC Charlotte email account the Tuesday following Commencement to see digital photographic proofs. Further information is available online at www.gradimages.com.

Procession

The University Marshal will lead the procession, followed by the degree candidates, faculty, department chairs, platform party, and chancellor.

The Mace

The mace, carried by the University Marshal, is an ancient symbol of authority dating to 14th-century Europe. The UNC Charlotte mace includes symbols relating to the institution’s history and its setting in North Carolina and Mecklenburg County. The base is formed of a gold pine cone, with the lower portion of the staff carved of native walnut. The upper portion of the staff is formed in silver. Crowning the mace is a hornet’s nest in gold plate which sits on a large dogwood bloom. The mace was crafted by Barry Merritt of the Penland School of Crafts.

Academic Regalia

The gowns, hoods, and tassels worn in an academic ceremony designate the level of the degree, the academic discipline in which the degree was awarded, and the institution from which the degree was received. Medallions may indicate that the wearers have earned recognition for academic honors or that they are members of one or more student organizations.

Styles of gowns may vary, but the doctoral gown is generally marked by velvet panels down the front, around the neck, and across the sleeves.

Tassels may be black for any degree or in the color of the discipline in which the degree was awarded. Doctors and governing officials of institutions may wear tassels of gold metallic thread.

The hood identifies the level of the degree, the discipline in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it. The master’s hood is three and one-half feet long, and the doctor’s hood is four feet long. The velvet trim on the hood is three inches wide for the master’s and five inches for the doctor’s. The design of the hood and color of its lining designate the discipline in which the degree was awarded.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is committed to providing equal educational and employment opportunities for all members of the University community and for all those seeking to join the University community.

In case of an emergency, find the nearest campus police officer or commencement volunteer.
Joe L. Price ’83, has served as chair of the UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees since July 2016. He has been a member of the Board since 2007 and previously served as vice chair and chair of two board committees. Price also serves on the Board of Advisors of the Belk College of Business.

As an alumnus whose connection to the University runs deep, Price knows the value of UNC Charlotte’s commitment—past and future—to the region.

“From our humble beginning as the Charlotte Center to our role today as North Carolina’s urban research University, awarding more than 7,200 degrees each year and helping to shape and lead Charlotte’s dynamic economy, the UNC Charlotte success story is powerful and still unfinished,” Price says.

While University alumni find their successes across the globe, the majority of them stay here in the Charlotte region, Price notes. “Graduates in every field—among them teaching, computer and data sciences, accounting and finance, health-related fields, engineering, and the liberal and performing arts—will make contributions to the region’s economic, social, and cultural future.”

Price is a finance executive who held many positions with Bank of America for nearly 20 years, including chief financial officer, global corporate and investment banking risk management executive, president of Consumer and Small Business Banking, and a member of the bank’s executive management team. Prior to joining Bank of America in 1993, he was affiliated with Price Waterhouse and served as a member of the Financial Institutions National Industry Group.

Price currently serves as a senior advisor for Falfurrias Capital, a private equity firm, and is a board member of RegEd, a compliance software systems provider to the financial services industry.

He also serves as chair of the Board of Directors of Habitat for Humanity’s worldwide operations and is active with Habitat for Humanity of Charlotte and the UNC Charlotte student chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

Price and his wife, Christine, reside in Charlotte and have two grown daughters and a son.

The UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees also includes Michael L. Wilson, Vice Chair; Dhiaa Jamil, Secretary; Dennis N. Bunker III; Sharon Allred Decker; Susan D. DeVore; Theresa J. Drew; J. Brett Keeter; Fred W. Klein, Jr.; Mary Ann Rouse; Laura A. Schulte; Teross W. Young, Jr. and Niayai L. Lavien, Student Body President.
UNC Charlotte Bell

The UNC Charlotte Bell, which for many years hung in the belfry of the old Elizabeth School at East Fifth Street and Travis Avenue in Charlotte, was given to Charlotte College in 1960 to be rung on ceremonial occasions.

It has been rung on special occasions such as March 2, 1965, when Charlotte College became the fourth branch of the University of North Carolina System and on August 11, 2010, to celebrate clearing the final hurdle to field UNC Charlotte’s football team.

Student Bell Ringers

The ringing of the UNC Charlotte Bell at Commencement is an honorable tradition that recognizes an outstanding student leader who has demonstrated exemplary 49er spirit.

The student leaders chosen to ring the bell for the Spring 2018 Commencement Ceremonies are Noah T. Vetter (Friday afternoon), Kayla M. Osborne (Saturday morning), and Nemah-Allah Y. Saleh (Saturday afternoon).

Student Commencement Speakers

Greetings from the Spring 2018 graduating class will be given by Muhammad A. Siddique (Friday afternoon), Mounika Jagga (Saturday morning), and Robbie S. Miller (Saturday afternoon). They were chosen as Student Commencement Speakers through a competitive process. All graduating seniors are invited to submit applications and speeches for this honor. The Commencement Speaker Selection Committee consists of faculty, staff, and student representatives. All speaker candidates must present their speeches to the selection committee. To be selected, a candidate must be a graduating student of high academic achievement and demonstrate excellent character through leadership, service, and school spirit. The selected candidates represent their peers in an articulate and meaningful way by reflecting on their experiences and education at UNC Charlotte.

History of the University

UNC Charlotte was one of a generation of institutions founded in metropolitan areas following World War II. Created as the Charlotte Center, the institution opened on September 23, 1946. It offered evening classes to an initial class of 278 freshmen and sophomores in the facilities of Charlotte’s Central High School. In 1949, the city’s pioneering business and civic leaders, aware of the region’s unmet need for a public institution of higher education, moved to have the Charlotte Center taken over by the city school district and operated as Charlotte College, offering the first two years of college courses.

By 1961, the firmly established Charlotte College was experiencing rapid growth that resulted in the establishment of a campus of its own. In the same year, Charlotte College leaders moved its burgeoning student population into the first two buildings on what would become a 1,000-acre campus ten miles from downtown Charlotte. In 1963, the North Carolina legislature approved bills making Charlotte College a four-year, state-supported institution. In 1965, the legislature passed bills designating the College the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the fourth campus of the consolidated state system. Expansion continued as the University began offering master's degrees in 1969. In 1992, UNC Charlotte received authorization for its first doctoral programs. Today, UNC Charlotte is the state’s urban research institution and the system’s third largest public university with more than 29,000 students enrolled in 77 bachelor’s, 64 master’s and 23 doctoral degree programs.

Bonnie E. Cone, Our Founder

(1907-2003)

Bonnie E. Cone, the founder of UNC Charlotte, served the institution from its earliest days in 1946. Beginning as a teacher that year, she became director of the Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1947. She persuaded the legislature to keep the institution alive in 1949 when it was scheduled to close, resulting in the establishment of Charlotte College, which she served as president. The college became a four-year, state-supported institution in 1963. Cone was given her greatest acclaim for leading the successful campaign to convert Charlotte College into The University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1965. She then served as vice chancellor for student affairs until her official retirement. Cone died March 8, 2003. In spring 2004, she was interred in Van Landingham Glen on the campus she loved and to which she dedicated her life.

Explanations of Honors

University Honors Program: The University Honors Program (UHP) is an interdisciplinary honors curriculum that complements any major. Students in the program strive to broaden their perspectives while developing as scholar-citizens. The program consists of a core academic curriculum, honors elective courses, a senior capstone project, and community engagement. To graduate with University Honors, a student must: complete all program requirements; maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and a 3.2 grade point average in honors courses; and receive a senior project grade of "A." uhuncc.edu

Department/College Honors: To qualify for graduation with honors recognition in a department or college honors program, a student must: meet the grade point averages required (cumulative, in the department/college, and in honors courses); complete an honors capstone thesis or project and receive an "A" for that course; complete any additional requirements specified by the program; and be recommended by the program's honors committee for graduation with honors. honorscollege.uncc.edu/honors-programs-and-societies

Dual Honors: Students must complete requirements in both UHP and a department/college honors program.

Merit Scholars Programs: Albert Scholars, Crown Scholars, Levine Scholars, and Martin Scholars are recipients of major four-year merit scholarships funded by University donors. Students must participate in the program and meet all scholarship conditions. levinescholars.uncc.edu, honorscollege.uncc.edu/scholarships

Graduation with Distinction: Undergraduate degrees are awarded Summa Cum Laude when the graduate's cumulative grade point average is 3.9 to 4.0, Magna Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.7 or above but less than 3.9, and Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.4 or above but less than 3.7. To be eligible to graduate with distinction, a student must have a grade point average computed on at least 48 semester hours of credit completed in residence at UNC Charlotte. Honor cord colors are green/white for Summa Cum Laude graduates, white for Magna Cum Laude graduates, and green for Cum Laude graduates.

The commencement program must be prepared in advance. Therefore, notations for honors are based upon student achievements as of the preceding term and are tentative. Final determination of graduation with honors is made upon completion of the student's final term.

Dean W. Colvard, First Chancellor (1913-2007)

In April 1966, Dr. Dean W. Colvard became the first chancellor of The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. During his 12-year tenure, he presided over a period of rapid campus growth and development. Under his leadership, the institution was organized into colleges, residence halls were built, graduate work was initiated, and long-range planning started. His accomplishments include helping to create the University Research Park and the University's Urban Institute, whose mission is to seek solutions to the social, economic, and environmental challenges facing Charlotte and its urban communities. Colvard joined the University from the presidency of Mississippi State University, and he also served as a dean at North Carolina State University. Following his retirement in December 1978, Colvard helped complete Charlotte's Discovery Place Museum and was the founding board chair of the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics. He also wrote books about his experience at NC State, Mississippi State, and UNC Charlotte. In 2001, Colvard received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus by Choice Award, and in 2004, he received the Echo Foundation's Award Against Indifference. Colvard died in June 2007.

Honorary Degree: Doctor of Public Service

Ophelia Garmon-Brown

Dr. Ophelia Garmon-Brown is a woman with many gifts and talents. A physician, a minister, a volunteer, a leader; these are just a few of the hats that she wears in her daily work. But most of all, Dr. Garmon-Brown is a caregiver and advocate for the health and well-being of Charlotte community members and beyond.

Dr. Garmon-Brown has spent decades caring for others around the world. In her current role as Chief Community Wellness and Health Equity Executive at Novant Health and as a board-certified family practitioner, she has touched the lives of thousands of patients from Charlotte, her home since 1980, to distant countries around the world in her work as a medical missionary.

Dr. Garmon-Brown was co-chair of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Opportunity Task Force that was convened to study the issues of economic mobility in Charlotte and that issued its report in 2017. She is now a member of the Leading on Opportunity Council, which is working to implement the recommendations of the task force in order to improve economic mobility in Charlotte and in Mecklenburg County.

Dr. Garmon-Brown received a bachelor’s degree in biology from North Carolina Central University and then earned her medical degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In 1980, she began her internship and residency in family medicine at Carolinas Medical Center (CMC) in Charlotte. In doing so, she became CMC’s first African-American female resident in family medicine.

As she continued to excel in her career, she became the Medical Director of all Presbyterian Urgent Care Centers in 2000 and the Medical Director of Presbyterian Company Care in 2001. In 2007, she was promoted to Vice President of Business & Community Partnerships as well as Novant Health’s Community Benefit Department. In 2012, she was promoted to Senior Vice President of Physician Services.

In 2003, Dr. Garmon-Brown returned to school to obtain a master’s degree in divinity. She graduated from Union Theological Seminary and Presbyterian School of Christian Education in fall 2007. Currently she is an active member of St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church.

Armed with an insatiable appetite to help others, Dr. Garmon-Brown is also a leader in the community, serving as co-founder of the Charlotte Community Health Clinic, a free clinic for the poor and uninsured, which is now a federally qualified health clinic. Formerly, she also served as medical director of the health clinic at the Salvation Army Women’s and Children’s Shelter and, in her spare time, volunteered at the Charlotte Pregnancy Care Center.

Beyond helping those across the Charlotte region, Dr. Garmon-Brown has traveled the globe as a missionary delivering free care to those in need. Through her leadership in Kenya, where she has traveled numerous times over the past 11 years, she set up a mini health clinic. Dr. Garmon-Brown has also done medical mission work in Uganda, South Africa, Guyana, Jamaica, and other locales in the United States.

Dr. Garmon-Brown has received numerous awards and recognitions including the National Women of Achievement Outstanding Humanitarian Award, the Real Life Super Hero National Award – Wonder Woman in 2017, the 2011 Thurgood Marshall Award of the Year, and the 2010 Charlotte Woman of the Year.

Dr. Garmon-Brown is a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians, Queens University Board of Trustees, Project Lift Governance Board, and the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce Board, to name a few.

For her tireless efforts on behalf of UNC Charlotte and the citizens of Charlotte, the region and beyond, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte awards the honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service, to Dr. Ophelia Garmon-Brown.

Recessional

The Commencement program is printed prior to administering final examinations. Therefore, the inclusion of names of degree candidates in the program is not certification that degree requirements have been satisfactorily completed.
Ann Blakeney Clark brought deep institutional knowledge to her role as superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools (CMS). As superintendent, she provided executive leadership for North Carolina’s second largest school district, serving 145,000 students, and was responsible for the day-to-day supervision of 168 schools.

Clark’s proudest achievement as superintendent was the idea of creating an early college for students who think they might be interested in becoming teachers. UNC Charlotte, in partnership with Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, opened the Charlotte Teacher Early College (CTEC) in August 2017 on the campus of the University with an entering class of 49 students. The only program of its kind in North Carolina, and one of the first in the country, the early college immerses students in intentional field-based learning activities.

Over the course of 34 years, Clark held a variety of teaching and administrative positions in CMS. Her extensive education background includes time as a principal at elementary, middle and high schools. She most recently served as deputy superintendent and chief academic officer, overseeing the district’s curriculum, professional development, classroom instruction and learning communities.

“I know that every child can learn,” Clark says. “Teaching every child effectively is the responsibility and the privilege of public education.”

In Clark’s first position with CMS, she served as a teacher of behaviorally and emotionally handicapped children at Devonshire Elementary School. After five years in the classroom, she moved into administrative roles and was named an assistant principal at Montclaire Elementary School in 1987. A year later she was named principal at Shamrock Gardens Elementary School, where she served for two years before moving to Alexander Graham Middle School for six years.

In 1996, Clark became the first principal at the newly opened Vance High School. She went on to become assistant superintendent for high school curriculum and instruction, regional superintendent for high schools, and then associate superintendent of education services. She served as the district’s chief academic officer, then deputy superintendent before being named superintendent in January 2015.

Her teaching career began at North Landing Elementary School in Virginia Beach, Virginia, after earning a bachelor’s degree in English from Davidson College and a master’s degree in Special Education from the University of Virginia. She also holds an administrator certification from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

In addition to her work with CMS, Clark serves on multiple boards including the Girl Scouts, Teach for America, Renaissance West Community Initiative, and E2D Eliminate the Digital Divide.

She has been named a Broad Fellow, was the 2013 Charlotte Woman of the Year, a Thomas Jefferson Distinguished Alumnae of the University of Virginia, and was named National Principal of the Year in 1994 by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Clark was given the Dream Maker Award by Communities in Schools in 2015, named N.C. Heath Education Superintendent of the Year in 2015, and Educator of the Year in 2015 by the Charlotte Post. She has received honorary degrees from Davidson College and Queens University. Clark is a native of Greensboro, North Carolina.

For her countless efforts on behalf of UNC Charlotte and the citizens of Charlotte, the region, and the state, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte awards the honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service, to Ann Blakeney Clark.

In 2002, he received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus of the Year Award. During his career, he led some of America's most prominent higher education associations - president of the American Association for Higher Education, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, chair of the American Council on Education, and chair of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. In addition, Fretwell was named one of the 100 most effective university presidents in the United States in a national study. After retiring in 1989, he served as interim president of the five-campus University of Massachusetts, authored several books on university management, and consulted on higher education around the country and the world. He was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree during UNC Charlotte's spring 1998 Commencement ceremonies. In 2002, he received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus of the Year Award. Fretwell died October 18, 2012.

James H. Woodward, Building for the Future

Dr. James H. Woodward became UNC Charlotte's third chancellor in 1989, immediately establishing himself as one of the leading executives of the Charlotte metropolitan region. A U.S. Air Force veteran, he worked in private industry and taught at N.C. State University, the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he was a senior vice president for academic affairs, prior to coming to UNC Charlotte. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte launched ambitious plans for both physical and intellectual growth. Woodward built strong support among the region's corporate and political leaders, obtained approval to expand the University's mission to include doctoral programs, and raised the University to doctoral/research intensive status. He established UNC Charlotte Uptown to serve students in the central business district. An engineer, Woodward generated support to build the J. H. Barnhardt Student Activity Center and the Irwin Belk Track and Field Center, obtained state funding for doubling the size of Atkins Library, and was instrumental in garnering public support to pass a $31 billion statewide bond referendum that enabled UNC Charlotte to construct or renovate nearly a dozen buildings. He retired in 2005. Woodward has received numerous honors, including the naming of the science and technology building in 2005 as James H. and Martha H. Woodward Hall in recognition of his 16 years of service. In May 2011, UNC Charlotte awarded him an honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service. Woodward received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus by Choice Award in 2012. In November 2017, he was awarded the North Carolina Award for Public Service, the highest award a civilian can receive from the Governor.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is one of 17 campuses within the University of North Carolina System. Margaret Spellings serves as president.
On March 18, 2005, Philip L. Dubois was named UNC Charlotte's fourth chancellor, and he assumed that role on July 15, 2005. Dubois has focused his efforts on building the University's visibility and support in the Charlotte region; long-range planning for an expected enrollment of 35,000 students; completion of key capital construction projects including UNC Charlotte Center City, the Energy Production and Infrastructure Center, and the PORTAL building; improvement in the efficiency and effectiveness of critical business processes; implementation of an intercollegiate football program that started in the fall of 2013; and the expansion of light rail onto our campus, connecting us to Center City as never before.

A native of Oakland, California, Dubois attended the University of California, Davis, where he graduated in 1972 with an undergraduate degree in political science, earning election to the Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi honor societies. He then earned master's (1974) and doctoral (1978) degrees in the field from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Dubois began his academic career in 1976 at the University of California, Davis. During the next fifteen years, he rose through the faculty and administrative ranks to full professor and held various administrative posts, including associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.

In 1991, Dubois was recruited to UNC Charlotte where he spent the next five and a half years as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. Dubois was credited with drafting a strategic academic plan, leading the development of the University's first comprehensive campus-wide plan for information technology, and initiating programs to better serve nontraditional adult students. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte also planned and launched its first doctoral programs.

In 1997, Dubois was named president of the University of Wyoming (UW). In that role, he led the development of comprehensive academic, support services, and capital construction plans for the campus; stimulated a growing volume of new capital construction projects and building renovations; expanded UW’s role in statewide economic development; and improved the recruitment and retention of students. During his tenure, state and federal legislative support increased significantly, while private gifts to the University more than quadrupled. He served as president for eight years before returning to UNC Charlotte as chancellor.

Recent community recognitions for Dr. Dubois and UNC Charlotte include the Eileen Tosney Award for Career Service in Higher Education Leadership (2018), the Higher Education Civic Engagement Award from the Washington Center (2016), World Affairs Council of Charlotte "World Citizen Award" (2016), the CASE III Inclusion and Diversity Leadership Award (2015), the Leo M. Lambert Engaged Leader Award (2014), the Belk Innovation in Diversity Award (2013), the Charlotte Energy Leadership Award (2013), the Charlotte Cornerstone Award (2012, for positive economic impact), the Creative Thinker's Award (2012, for UNC Charlotte-Center City), and the Charlotte Regional Partnership "Jerry" Award (2009, for public sector contributions to economic development).

Dubois and his wife, Lisa Lewis Dubois, have three adult children and are the first family to occupy the chancellor's official campus residence, Bissell House.

UNC Board of Governors Award for Excellence in Teaching
Dr. Michèle Bissière
Languages and Culture Studies

UNC Charlotte professor of Languages and Culture Studies, Michèle Bissière, dedicates herself to educational enrichment within and beyond the boundaries of campus. For her efforts, Bissière is a recipient of the 2018 UNC Board of Governors Award for Excellence in Teaching.

The Board of Governors Award for Excellence in Teaching was established in 1994 to underscore the importance of teaching and to encourage, identify, recognize, reward, and support good teaching within the university. This award is given annually to a tenured faculty member from each UNC campus. Winners must have taught at their present institutions for at least seven years.

The 17 recipients were nominated by individual campus committees and selected by the Board of Governors Committee on Personnel and Tenure. Each award winner will receive a commemorative bronze medallion and a $12,500 cash prize.

Bissière, who joined UNC Charlotte in 1990, has developed 12 courses, mostly in the French curriculum; established an internship program which regularly places students in area schools to assist instructors teaching French; founded the French Club at UNC Charlotte; and encourages students to volunteer at local schools as well as the Bechtler Museum of Modern Art. Bissière single-handedly started the International Film Festival, which morphed into one of the largest and most attractive events on campus and in the community at large.

Colleagues frequently state that because of Bissière’s enthusiasm, integrity, and work ethic, she has supported every major programmatic initiative over the last two decades. Her outreach has been so diverse and extensive that Bissière is the face of French at UNC Charlotte. Known for her careful, substantive course preparation at all academic levels, her supplemental materials (including French newspapers, magazines, television shows, and films) help students develop critical thinking skills, a major goal of her teaching philosophy.

Bissière received the 2001 Pedagogy Award from the North Carolina chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French (NC-AATF), the 2013 NC-AATF Teacher of the Year Award, the 2015 AATF Dorothy S. Ludwig Excellence in Teaching Award, and the 2017 UNC Charlotte Faculty International Education Award. In 2014, Bissière was named Chevalier dans l’Ordre des Pa Imes Academiques (Knight in the Order of the French Academic Palms) by the French Ministry of Education, the most prestigious distinction bestowed upon instructors by the French government. This past fall, Bissière was named the recipient of UNC Charlotte’s top teaching award, the Bank of America Award for Teaching Excellence.

History of the Alma Mater

Creation of UNC Charlotte’s Alma Mater is rooted deep in the University’s history. It is part of the “Academic Festival March” that was composed for UNC Charlotte by James Helme Sutcliffe, a Charlotte composer and music critic who lived in Germany at the time.

Dr. Loy Witherspoon, professor of religious studies, commissioned the march in 1965 after he learned Charlotte College would become a campus of the consolidated UNC system. The march was initially performed in 1967 for the installation of Dean W. Colvard as UNC Charlotte’s first chancellor. Afterward, it was performed as a recessional at every commencement held during Chancellor Colvard’s tenure.

UNC Charlotte founder Bonnie Cone, upon hearing the march, remarked, “I can hear an alma mater in it,” referring to a hymn-like final refrain. Dr. Robert Rieke, a professor of history, also heard an alma mater in the march. During a 1990 trip to Germany, Rieke visited march composer Sutcliffe, where he picked up a recording of the march. Rieke began writing words to fit the final refrain. On Christmas Eve 1991, Rieke sent Bonnie Cone the words and music as a Christmas present to her and the University, from which he had retired a year earlier.

Chancellor James H. Woodward approved Rieke’s composition as the University’s Alma Mater in April 1992. It was sung for the first time at the following May commencement and has been performed at every commencement since.

- And much more

For information on all the ways you can stay connected and involved, visit 49erAlumni.uncc.edu and be sure to connect through Facebook, Twitter, and/or Instagram (search for 49erAlumni) and make sure to join our group on LinkedIn (search for UNC Charlotte Alumni).

BE A PART OF 49ER WAY

Dedicated in 2016, 49er Way is one of UNC Charlotte’s newest landmarks. This brick walkway is located between Cameron Boulevard and Jerry Richardson Stadium. These bricks, honoring UNC Charlotte alumni, lead the 49er football team, Pride of Niner Nation Marching Band, students, alumni, faculty, staff and fans from Hauser Alumni Pavilion to the stadium. Commemorate the hard work and dedication of your UNC Charlotte student through a personalized brick. Make a gift to honor a graduate and leave their legacy as a part of 49er Way. Graduates wearing a black stole during the commencement ceremony have already made their memorable class gift.

For more information and to purchase your brick, visit Crowdfund.uncc.edu/SeniorGift.

The University Nickname - 49ers

The "49ers" nickname was chosen in recognition of the importance of the year 1949 in the history of the University. UNC Charlotte, which began as an off-campus center of the University of North Carolina, would have died in 1949 had Bonnie Cone and her supporters not convinced the N.C. Legislature that Charlotte needed a permanent institution of higher learning. Charlotte College was established that year. It is fortuitous that the University campus is located on N.C. Highway 49 and that Charlotte has a rich gold mining history.

A bronze statue of the 49er Gold Miner sits in the Cato College of Education and College of Health and Human Services Plaza. The statue recalls the region's history as a gold mining center and symbolizes the pioneering spirit and determination that has led to UNC Charlotte's dramatic growth.
Thanks to a scholarship, Dana Erato ’99, ’01 was able to earn her undergraduate degree at UNC Charlotte while serving as four-year captain of the inaugural women’s soccer team. She started 63 of the 81 games in which she played, tallying 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points. Dana also added four game-winning goals and 100 shots during her career and was a member of the program’s first Conference USA Tournament championship squad in 1995.

“I knew the only way I was going to be able to play Division I soccer while getting a stellar education was through a soccer scholarship,” says Dana. “UNC Charlotte gave me that wonderful gift, and I knew from the day I signed my scholarship papers that I wanted to do the same thing for another young soccer player one day.”

Today, Dana and her family are making a difference and paying it forward for other student-athletes at UNC Charlotte through an endowed scholarship for women’s soccer.

“I received a wonderful education and had a fantastic experience due to the superb teachers, coaches and support staff I had and all of the campus facilities at my fingertips,” says Dana. “I am so proud to be a 49er!”

Exponential: The Campaign for UNC Charlotte celebrates the dramatic trajectory of growth of our University and our 130,000 alumni. This campaign offers all of us — alumni, business leaders and the University community — the opportunity to shape a future that is even more exciting than our past.
